The Globe-Democrat of last Sunday says that Carl Trisler, 23 years old, a lineman for the Kinloch Telephone Company in that city, narrowly escaped death at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon while working on a pole. He became entangled in telephone and light wires, and it is thought that a short circuit was made by a life belt which he wore. He remained entangled in the wires after he had been spun around by the heavy current for more than half an hour before he could be rescued by his fellow workmen. About 500 people gathered and watched the rescue. Patrick A. Monahan, foreman of the linemen took a coil of rope and ascended the pole and fastened it around Trisler's body without endangering his own life, and then slowly lowered the unconscious man to the ground. He was taken to the Lutheran hospital where it was said that he was badly burned on the body by the current and was in a critical condition. Young Trisler will be remembered by many of our citizens being the son of Dr. J. W. Trisler and wife who resided in this city for sometime but now reside at Morley, Mo.

Mrs. Linus Sanford was happily surprised last Thursday evening by the entire neighborhood coming in to spend the evening with her, in honor of her 64th birthday. Mrs. Sanford, in her usual gracious manner, invited them in, acknowledged the surprise and everyone proceeded to enjoy themselves in this hospitable home. Mrs. Sanford seated some on chairs over 100 years old and served her friends with ice cream and cake which surprised the guests, as she brought forth cake a year old. Spoons over 100 years old were used. Mrs. Sanford was Miss Martha Russell, born in this city. Her father James Russell brought the first printing press from Virginia and edited the first newspaper ever published in this city, the office being in a building that stood just where the Presbyterian manse now stands. The Stone Mill at Burfordville, which has such an interesting history, both before and during the Civil War times, is a monument to her maternal grandfather, Major Bollinger. Mrs. Sanford had her guests write their names in her girlhood album which was sure to be one of the treasures of the young ladies of her time. The album contains the names of Gen U. S. Grant and family, the name of of Fred Grant being conspicuous among them. The Grant family were friends of Mrs. Sanford's parents and herself. After a pleasant evening her guests departed wishing their friend and relative many happy returns of the day.

A CARD TO THE VOTERS.

Jackson, Mo., July 27, 1910.
To the Republicans of Cape Girardeau County.

On account of certain things over which I have no control, I have not been able to make as thorough a campaign for the Republican nomination for Prosecuting Attorney of this county as I hoped to do. I therefore take this method of soliciting your support. I was born in this county and have always lived here. Have always been a Republican. Have been practicing law for years and have an office in Jackson. I have been Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, and am familiar with the duties of the office. I am making this race for nomination because I want the office, it being in line with my professional work. I am not the candidate of any special class, but want the support of all Republicans for this nomination. If elected I will be free to serve all the people, fairly and impartially. I will prosecute but not persecute. It will be my ambition to make as small a bill of criminal costs, for the people to pay, as possible, but to always have the public welfare in view.

Very truly,
R. M. SAWYER.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Hon. David W. Hill, of Poplar Bluff, candidate for the nomination, on the Republican ticket, to Congress from this the 14th District, will address the voters at the following times and places: Allenville, Thursday, July 28, at 1:30 p. m.; Gordonville, Thursday, 28, at 7:30 p. m.; Appleton, Friday, at 2 p. m.; Pocahontas, Friday, at 7:30 p. m.; Jackson, Saturday, at 2 p. m. and at Cape Girardeau at 8 p. m. Mr. Hill was Speaker of the House during the 43rd Assembly, being a representative from Butler county, Mo. Everybody should hear this eloquent and able speaker.

Notice

Miss Alice Adams, the Spirella Corset Cos. representative, will be in Jackson for two weeks. Parties wishing to see her will please call up Mrs. Maggie Morton.
